Objective

I have six plus years of professional experience developing front-end components for websites & web applications. I am seeking a position that will allow me to expand my skills in this area.

Experience

Senior Web Developer

Haverty Furniture Companies, Inc - 2006 to present

Havertys Furniture is a company primarily based in the southeastern United States. As part of the Advertising department, my responsibilities revolve around supporting the online creative campaigns with landing pages, banner ads(basic & rich-media), and web applications. I also oversee a junior web developer and am the primary contact for the back-end developers when issues or needs arise involving javascript, css, and/or html.

Senior Web Developer

Now You Know, Inc. - 2005 - 2006

Now You Know is a web hosting company for Chiropractors. Their service caters to Chiropractors by allowing them to get online quickly and provide their patients with a number of educational resources. My responsibilities revolved around providing web support for the 1000+ client base, improving existing services via development of new applications and website templates, and developing new features as requested.

Technical Knowledge

Languages: PHP, Javascript, HTML, CSS. Also familiar with Python and Java.

Software: Adobe CS5 (Dreamweaver, Photoshop, Flash, etc.), Eclipse

Education

Bachelor of Science in Computer Science

Southern Polytechnic State University - August 2005

Interests

I'm currently developing an avid interest in Android & Arduino and hope to start coding some microcontrollers soon.
